LAUDS FIREMEN FOR OBSERVING BATTLE DATES

Gettysburg firemen established the custom of marking the anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg in 1949 "because we felt someone should do it, and no other organization came forward to handle such an observance," Mayor William G. Weaver told the Rotarians at their meeting Monday evening in the YWCA.

Speaking on "The History of the Firemen's Battle Anniversary Programs," Weaver credited the late James Shenk with inaugurating the idea that the firemen conduct the observance in 1948. The idea was accepted and the first such event was held the following year.

"We made a mistake on our first commemorative program in 1949 - we held it in the middle of the afternoon in the high school football field. There wasn't a soul in the stands - although there were a number of people in the distance under the shade of every tree. The U.S. Army Ground Forces Band held that it was the hottest day they had ever experienced. After that we learned to hold the program in the evening, when the heat is a little less intense."

He described the various armed forces bands and speakers at the annual Sunday memorial services over the years and noted that the battle anniversary programs developed from "ice cream festivals that the firemen held for years on E. Middle St. Then the Gettysburg Citizens' Band provided the music and some of its mainstays were Harvey Bushman, Allie Plank, Bert Rogers, Joe Carver and a number of others."

7,000 LAST YEAR
Biggest crowd at a firemen's memorial service was the 7,000 who jammed the high school grounds last year during the 100th anniversary when former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was the speaker.

"We met with the state commission marking the battle anniversary in November and they told us the Sunday evening program was up to us. The next day I asked permission to see General Eisenhower and he accepted the invitation to be our speaker."

"General and Mrs. Eisenhower were to take a train at Harrisburg immediately after he spoke at the memorial service. There was a reception before hand and I snuck in all local people I could. We still ended the reception 10 minutes before the 7:30 scheduled start of the program. Since the general was in a hurry I suggested we start

AREA SCHOOL BOARD ENDS FISCAL YEAR

A 40-minute special session of the Gettysburg Area School Board Monday evening was occupied chiefly with year-end business but a renewed request for an extension of school bus service in Freedom Twp., which had been turned down last fall, brought a suggestion that the Transportation Committee develop a policy on school bus routes.

The directors approved a new commission rate for the new tax collector in Highland Twp. to make it conform to the rate paid in Gettysburg borough and Freedom Twp., the other districts in the Gettysburg Area School District.

The new rate for the new collector will be 2 1/2 per cent for taxes collected at discount and at par and five per cent for those collected in the penalty period. Luther Jacobs is the new collector, succeeding Mrs. J. Hugh Scott.

NEED FOR POLICY

The request for the extension of bus service in Freedom Twp. to serve the family of Luther Smith had been turned down earlier in the last school year after a committee investigation. In renewing the request, Horace Waybright noted that road conditions have been "corrected" but questions were raised about other youngsters who now have to walk as far as the Smiths and about other parts of the township where buses do make side trips for pupils no more distant from the main route than the Smiths. These factors brought the call for a general policy that would be consistent with state law on the subject.

The matter was turned over to the Transportation Committee which includes Glenn Trostel, Jack Oyler and John Reeves. Dr. Jacob Heikinen was added to the committee. He was a member of the special investigating

CEREMONY AT PEACE LIGHT ON WEDNESDAY

The first of a series of four events marking the Battle Anniversary on the actual anniversary dates will be held Wednesday evening at the Eternal Light Peace Memorial on the battlefield.

William G. Weaver, chairman of the special events committee for the Gettysburg Fire Department's 101st Battle Anniversary committee, said today that Dr. Frederick Tilberg, National Park historian here, will be the speaker at the Peace Light program honoring the men who fought in the first day of the Battle of Gettysburg.

The program will get underway at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening on the walkway in front of the Peace Light Memorial. The Gettysburg Junior Firemen's Color Guard and firing squad will participate in the program which will include the 20-minute talk on the first day's fighting by Dr. Tilberg. The wreath will be placed by Assistant Fire Chief Robert Hefflin.

OTHER SPECIAL EVENTS

Weaver expressed his appreciation to the Cashtown Lions Club for use of the new loud speaker system purchased last week by the Cashtown Lions. Marking the first use of the system by an organization other than the Lions themselves, the speaker system will be utilized at Wednesday evening's service; at the program Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock on E. Cemetery Hill at which Dr. Harry Pfanz will be speaker and at the service Friday evening at 6 o'clock at the North Carolina Monument at which Martin Conway will speak.

The commemorative exercises on the actual battle dates will include the parade to be held Thursday night at 7 o'clock through the town. About 50 units have signed so far for the annual procession.

The firemen's festival at Recreation Field began Monday night and will continue each night through Saturday, with fireworks a feature each night. Monday night the Fairfield High School Band provided the music. Tonight the featured music at the festival will be presented by Sunny George and his Blue Grass Valley Boys. Wednesday night the Dallastown Boys and Girls Band will play.

LOCAL CHERRY GROWERS SEEK HARVEST PRICE

Eastern cherry growers today are continuing efforts to negotiate with cherry processors for the 1964 harvest. Richard B. Trostel, Biglerville, a member of the board of directors of Great Lakes Cherry Producers' Cooperative, said today. Trostel received a communication from B. I. Freeman, secretary-manager of the marketing association, stating that "not one processor has accepted the association's reasonable price of 6 1/2 cents."

The telegram from Freeman continued: "Processors faced with an above normal crop have concerned themselves with establishing a fee for processing but have been reluctant to establish a market price for processed cherries."

The Great Lakes association is a five-state grower-cooperative with 2,500 members in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, New York and Ohio, who control 160,000,000 pounds of sour cherries. It has been instrumental in establishing a high grade standard for cherries delivered to processors and for establishing stable prices based on the economic value of the U.S. crop.

Freeman said, "The board of directors has been disappointed in the immediate reaction of processors, in view of the lowest carryover in years and expanding export markets."

The cherry harvest will begin in volume about July 6, and Freeman urged growers "to talk to local processors and convince them of the necessity for cooperation in establishing a price that the market will take and that will keep both growers and processors alive."

IN CARLISLE HOSPITAL

The Bermudian Springs Joint School Board held a special meeting Monday evening at the high school near York Springs to set up a joint school committee to handle the affairs of the school system. Clay Snyder, president of the board, presided.

Beginning with July 1, the business of the school system will be conducted by a 10-member joint school committee, composed of two members from each of the existing member boards, the directors decided.

The change was brought about because three of the member districts voted to merge and two did not. The names of the members from each board will be submitted prior to the July meeting.

Castro's Sister Charges Brother With Selling Out To Russia And 'Betrayal'

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Fidel Castro's sister Juanita has defected, charging that the Cuban prime minister betrayed his revolution and sold out Cuba to the Soviet Union.

With tears in her eyes and her voice breaking, the 41-year-old woman read a six-page denunciation of the Cuban regime headed by her brothers Fidel and Raul.

Miss Castro, one of seven Castro brothers and sisters, refused to say how she came to Mexico from Cuba. Her sister Emma has lived in Mexico City since her marriage three years ago to a Mexican engineer.

DRIEST JUNE IN TEN YEARS; '64 IS SHORT

The mercury was heading toward a new high for 1964 this afternoon at the Gettysburg Times weather station where it was 94 at 1:30 p.m., equalling the previous record of 94 set last Saturday.

The driest June in a decade went into the records today with only 1.03 inches of rain to its credit while the shortage of rain for the first half of the year mounted to 2.75 inches.

This month followed the driest May on record here in 61 years and rainfall in the two months totaled less than two inches. The rainfall shortage for the two months is 5.75 inches.

Six days with temperatures of 90 degrees or above kept the June average very close to normal. The average temperature was just under 71 degrees. Normal is 71.5 degrees.

The high reading came last Saturday at 94 degrees and at the other extreme was a reading of 44 degrees on the morning of June 3. The low the next morning was 48 but the mercury has not gone below the 50 degree mark since that time. The hottest night was that of June 20-21 when the low was 71 degrees.

EARLY SURPLUS GONE

The daily high readings this month averaged 81.97 degrees and the daily low reading was 60 degrees.

Measurable amounts of rain fell on nine days this month, but on three of those days the total was one-hundredth of an inch and on three other days the total was less than a tenth of an inch. The heaviest rain in June was on Monday, June 15, when a third of an inch fell.

Normal rainfall for June in Gettysburg is 3.52 inches. This month is 2.44 inches short of that figure. Last June the total was 4.09 inches and the month was one of the few in a dry year that exceeded normal.

The first half of 1964 has seen only 17.59 inches of rain and that is 2.75 inches short of normal. The first four months of the year had built up a surplus but that was wiped out in May and the shortage mounted this month.

GUISE ELECTED AT BOYS' CAMP

Dennis Guise, a Senior at Gettysburg High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Guise Sr., N. Stratton St., has been elected a member of the school board of Engard City under the American Legion's mythical 51st state setup on the campus of Penn State University. He is participating in the annual Pennsylvania American Legion civic government project, which closes today.

Guise is being sponsored by the Albert J. Lentz American Legion Post.

They form two political parties, adopt platforms, nominate candidates and elect government officials. They elect a boy governor and fill every other elective office, set up their own state legislature, courts and law enforcement agencies. In addition, they enact their own laws, enforce them and simulate every function of state government.

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Winnie paralyzed this city of two million today. At least 10 persons were reported drowned and scores more were injured.

The storm's winds of up to 95 miles an hour tore through populous central Luzon Island before dawn, demolished thousands of shanty homes and left Manila without power, light, newspapers and public transportation.

Weather Bureau said the eye of the storm passed directly over Manila. The winds tore off roofing, knocked down stone and brick walls and uprooted huge trees.

Hundreds of cars and buses were stalled in flooded streets. Telephone poles were knocked down and news services blacked out. Radio stations were silenced when their transmitting towers were blown down.

GROUND PLANES

SUES FOR COST OF FRYER LOST IN $1,590 FIRE

Jules A. and Eva C. Neiderer, McSherrytown, trading as Hamburger Palace, 800 Elm St., Conewago Twp., have brought an action in assumpsit in county court against Ballantyne Instruments and Electronics Inc., Omaha, Neb., seeking to recover the cost of a "Flavor Crisp Pressure Fryer."

According to the complaint filed in the prothonotary's office by Attorney H. Thomas Pyle for Mr. and Mrs. Neiderer, the couple purchased a pressure fryer, made by Ballantyne, from Chester Valley Refrigerator Co., Downingtown, on November 4, 1962. The Neiderers allege that the pressure cooker bore a warranty that it would be "trouble free, dependable, and that the pressure valve would automatically release all pressure at the end of each cooking cycle."

According to the complaint, on January 20, 1963, at the end of a cooking cycle, the pressure continued upward and climbed to 28 pounds, twice normal.

At that point Jules Neiderer opened the fryer to release the pressure and the escaping fat ignited, according to the complaint.

In the resulting fire the pressure fryer, valued at $1,554.80, was a "complete loss" and food and store damage was $35.77.

The complaint alleges the pressure valve release failed to operate because of a defect in the main relay in the wiring. The Neiderers claim $1,590.57.

AREA SCHOOL

The board authorized a routine transfer of funds from budgetary reserve to specific departments of the budget to cover expenditures there before the close of the fiscal year which ends today.

Tax Collector J. Herbert Weikert was formally exonerated on the 1963 duplicate so that he can secure his new bond but the action does not relieve delinquent taxpayers of their tax debt. Exoneration of the exonerated lists was deferred by the board until August.

FINAL FISCAL REPORT

The final report from the school district treasurer, the Gettysburg National Bank, for the fiscal year ending today showed a rental subsidy payment of $16,146 received from the state, $940 from real estate transfer taxes, $622 from Gettysburg taxes and $579 from Highland Twp. Expenditures included $1,956 for transportation, a $24,772 rental payment and $40,000 paid to the joint school district treasurer.

The year-end balance is approximately $3,100 but the school district has $100,000 on interest. It was that cushion that helped to make possible the five-million real estate levy cut to 45 mills.

President Robert W. Weaver presided at the meeting which was held in the office of Supt. H. Edgar Riegler with the superintendent and these other directors in attendance: Jack Oyler, Dr. Heikinen, Glen Trostle, Mr. Waybright, William Williams, Orrville Orner and William Jacobs.

Mystery Comedy Plays Totem Pole

Jonathan Troy, who is not only an actor but has had three mystery plays published and produced, stars in the mystery comedy "Miss Pell Is Missing" playing at the Totem Pole Playhouse, Caledonia, this week. He plays the part of Richard Pell, Louise's father, with a light professional touch.

Karen Johnson, petite and attractive blonde daughter of Pennsylvania Congressman Albert W. Johnson, is well-suited for the role of Louise who has been under the rule of her dominant aunt, the missing Miss Pell, and who falls in love with the young detective played by D. F. Gilliam. She is engaged to Otis Kirby, a prim dandy of the 1915 period, very well played by Tom McKenna. Arline Anders makes an interesting role out of Pauline, the cook, and Maureen Flanagan plays a pretty, clever maid who is popular with the boys. Arden Kiser provides a steady background as the lawyer for the family.

The action of the play takes place in the library of the Pell house in Washington Square and it is both interesting and amusing to watch the metamorphosis of both the house and its inmates as Miss Pell continues to be missing and they come out from under her domination. ETB

SEARCH FOR MISSING MEN OFF BERMUDA

By BERNARD BROWN

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—U.S. boats and planes were searching off Bermuda's south coast today for 12 American airmen missing after the collision of two Air Force planes during a space training mission.

The planes plunged into the Atlantic Monday as parachuting airmen were running a test rescue operation for the two-man Gemini space project.

There were 24 men in the two planes. Seven were rescued. Five bodies had been recovered Monday night.

The survivors were reported in good condition.

PLANES BRUSHED WINGS

The two planes, each carrying 12 men, brushed wings as Air Force photographers in small boats below were shooting a para-rescue training film. A Gemini capsule was in the water below, and the planes were dropping men to simulate its recovery.

A spokesman at Kindley Air Force Base, four miles from the scene, said there were indications all seven survivors had jumped before the crash as part of the scheduled test-rescue operation.

The planes were flying at about 1,500 feet on the same course when they touched, a witness said.

The British government plans to set aside an acre of the historic meadow at Runnymede, on the Thames, for a memorial to the late President John F. Kennedy. A simple block monument will stand on the green field where the Magna Carta was promulgated in 1215.

WORKERS FOR SCRANTON ARE BEING SOUGHT

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Scranton for President organization is seeking 70 volunteers to go into 12 key states and win over national Republican convention delegates for the Pennsylvania governor.

State Rep. Alan D. Williams Jr., R-Bucks, announced Monday night that he was coordinating efforts at forming what he term "Scranton Corps."

"We're looking for people who have the time and ambition and financial resources to dedicate two weeks to helping Bill Scranton obtain the nomination," Williams said. "It is intended these people go into the key delegates states where we think substantial gains for Gov. Scranton can be made."

EX-AID TO IKE HELPS

Williams listed the states as Florida, Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, North Carolina, Tennessee, Indiana, Ohio, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Utah and Arkansas.

The state lawmaker said the 70 would join 80 other volunteers who were contacting delegates in various states on Scranton's behalf two months before he announced his candidacy June 12. Williams said 60 of the original volunteers were Pennsylvanians, the remainder from other states.

Meanwhile, the Scranton for President headquarters announced the enlistment of a former aide to the Eisenhower.

A spokesman said L. Edison Mathias Jr., Atlantic City, N. J. investment broker, would go to the West Coast this week and remain there through the convention, which opens July 13.

Mathias was named an aide on special projects to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1957 and was a member of the U. S. delegation at the London disarmament conference.

JET CRASHES; TWO KILLED

HAVERHILL, Mass. (AP)—A silent and pilotless jet fighter slashed into a sleeping neighborhood early today, brushing half a dozen homes and a dozen cars before exploding into a house at the end of the street, killing two children.

Todd Gifford, 10, and his sister, Pamela, 8, perished when they were trapped in their one-story ranch house and burned to death.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Gifford, escaped practically unhurt.

The pilot of the Massachusetts Air National Guard F86, Capt. D. F. Sullivan of Boston, ejected from the crippled jet and parachuted into the nearby Merrimack River.

He was rescued by a Coast Guard helicopter.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—After two busy months of traveling and speechmaking, President Johnson is expected to spend most of July at the White House.

There are no travel plans on his announced schedule for the month, and aides said only two or three out-of-town engagements are being discussed. The President may make a brief trip to his Texas ranch for the July 4 weekend.

One factor that may be influencing the President's travel plans is the Republican National Convention, which opens in San Francisco July 13 and will likely dominate the news for at least one week. Associates say it is only a coincidence that Johnson has no speaking dates during this period.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's signature has put the temporary national debt limit at $324 billion—until a year from today.

If Johnson had not signed the bill Monday, the limit would have dropped automatically to the old temporary limit of $309 billion today and to its permanent limit of $285 billion at midnight tonight.

The actual federal debt now stands at $312 billion. WASHINGTON (AP)—Total federal employment dropped 3,555 in May compared with April, a Senate-House committee reported today.

The total number of civilian employees was listed as 2,476,791 in May by the Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures. The biggest cuts were in the civilian pay roll of the Defense Department.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., said today he is preparing new legislation to prevent Communists from obtaining passports.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

A GIFT OF CHARM. A lovely asks: Must a guest take a gift to a weekend hostess, or may it be sent? What gifts are most welcome? Selection always stymies me.

The answer: In return for hospitality, the only requirement is a prompt thank you note. A gift is a voluntary gesture—a privilege and a pleasure, rather than a duty. Delivery is a matter of personal convenience. You may take a gift or send it, either before or after your visit.

A successful selection reflects your hostess's tastes—her preference in flowers, books, records, fragrance and knickknacks. A gift without point—candy for a dieter—is better left ungiven.

For a hostess who "has everything," look about for a new toy or off-beat token. If she's a gourmet, she will relish a tin of quail's eggs or a super jar of gooseberry jam. If she's a garden buff, she'd treasure an exotic bulb. Such small house gifts as elegant perfume's soaps, decorator candles and summer coasters are useful and appreciated.

But what most pleases a hostess is a gift of charm, a guest's charm. From the hostess viewpoint, a charmer arrives and departs on a schedule, and she appears promptly for all other planned events. She offers her service when needed, but asks none for herself. She's fun, more fun to have around than a carload of glib trinkets.

SHUNK, Pa. (AP)—Randy Max Norton, 5, and his 3-year-old sister, Lee Rae, were burned to death Monday night in a barn fire near the home of their parents in this Sullivan County community.

Their mother, Mrs. Frank L. Norton, said the children were playing in the barn. She said she was in the kitchen when she noticed the flames, but by that time the blaze had engulfed the barn.

Tablet to Mark Local Church:
To mark the building as the place where Abraham Lincoln attended service at the time of his visit here in November 1863 the Presbyterian congregation is preparing to place on the front of the church a bronze tablet bearing an appropriate inscription. President Lincoln occupied a seat in this church at the service which followed the dedicatory exercises in the Soldiers' National Cemetery. The principal address was made by the Lieutenant Governor of Ohio who was introduced by Governor Dennison of that state. Mr. Lincoln was forced to leave early in order to catch his train and as he passed out the aisle he grasped the hands of the people sitting at the ends of the pews.

Woman Killed By Sand Slide:
Caught beneath a slide of eight or ten tons of heavy granite sand Mrs. Samuel Robinson was almost instantly killed this morning at the quarry near Round Top. She was unconscious when her body was dug out of the mass of material and died in a few moments. The accident occurred at a place in the Robinson quarry of which the woman had been warned but a few days before. A deep fissure had appeared in the top of an overhanging ledge of the sand which is composed largely of disintegrated granite stone. Mr. Robinson who owns and conducts the quarry has had some difficulty in getting hands and his wife went out this morning to do some screening for him. Paul Cluck, young son of Harvey Cluck, was playing in the quarry and saw the huge bulk of sand suddenly give way and catch Mrs. Robinson before she could move a step. The mass fell from a height of about fifteen feet and evidently crushed her as it fell.

Playground Formally Opened:
Gettysburg took a half holiday this afternoon to celebrate in appropriate fashion the formal opening of the town's new $20,000 playground, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Kurtz, Philadelphia. The donors were so delighted with the great success of the opening that they have decided to build a dam for boating and winter sports at the northeast corner of their land, to put the croquet and quiet grounds at the west side of the lot in still better condition and to erect a brick porch on the north side of the club house where older people can sit.

Will Beautify The North End:
This summer is to mark the completion of the proposed improvements to Broadway and the opening of the extension of that street eastward. Martin Winter is planning to finish the parking of Broadway at the six plots for grass, flowers and shrubbery now enclosed by fencing. Concrete curbing will be placed at all the plots. The roadway of macadam is to be built by the borough this year between Carlisle and Mummastown streets and at all the cross-overs between the plots. The work of grading East Broadway from Carlisle street to the Harrisburg road will be completed and the street opened for public use for a distance of about 1,000 feet. There is much building activity in the north end. Among those expecting to erect dwellings in that section are John W. Brehm, Prof. H. Milton Roth and Charles H. Smith all of whom will build on Broadway. The new houses of Frank R.

SOLID PEOPLE

I like solid people — and by this I do not mean physically heavy folks — but those who have both feet solidly planted. In other words, apologies or anything else to such. They belong to the order of the sincere.

Solid people make the best friends, and they stay by you through thick and thin. They have understanding. They overlook the petty faults that most of us have. They are tolerant, kindly and generous — often to a fault. Life to such is not a complex affair, but something delightful, something to be lived, gloriously, day by day.

Even the earth looks solid underneath solid people. They belong to the earth, and to those who extract joy from it all. They don't have any set policies, but they have a plan of life, and a simple philosophy that holds them to a steady course. They don't fuss over nonessentials. They, themselves, form the secret to their happiness, and their way of life is smooth and void of false glamour.

It takes a deal of searching to discover solid folks, but it's worth the effort, for then you have got something. Something both rare and select. And in the presence of these solid people you feel protected and comfortable. You just don't have to explain them! They explain themselves. And they never run out on you.

Isn't the superior people, but the solid ones, who run this world. The ones who toil, who know sorrow and its aftermath, who look to God in simple faith, and who form the substantial ones in every community and in every country. Pillars of character uphold the structure of their heart, and there is nothing petty about them.

It should be the aim and hope of us all to be numbered among those who are the solid ones of this earth. Solid people get along with their neighbors, because they are built that way! They mind their own business. That's one reason why you never have to visit them, in jail.

Don't Ring Central: Town patrons of the United (Cumberland Valley) telephone exchange in Gettysburg need no longer ring their bell when they want to call up central. Rural patrons will continue to call in the old manner. The new system with switch boards and all the modern appliances was put into service last night and all that is now necessary to get the attention of the operator is to life the receiver from the hook. The new exchange is located in the Masonic building on the second floor and is a model in every way. The wires enter the building through an underground cable and in addition to the other devices, there is a special safety system to reduce to a minimum the danger from electricity. The new system was put in at a heavy expense and the change was made from the old exchange without any interruption of service.

Town Merchant Dies: G. W. Weaver, senior member of the firm of G. W. Weaver and Son, died Sunday evening at his home on East High street after an illness of many months with heart disease. He was aged 82 years. In 1885 he opened the good goods establishment with his son Horatio T. Weaver, which has grown to its present size largely because of his active interest in the business. Always progressive and anxious to cater to the best interests of his customers, Mr. Weaver, with his son, built up the largest dry goods store in Adams County.

Miss Jacqueline Elder Wins Three "Political Victories" At '64 Camp

Miss Jacqueline R. Elder, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Edwin Elder, Littlestown, won three resounding "political victories" while attending the Keystone State Girls, Inc., camp last week at Shippensburg. The camp is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Pennsylvania. This year 222 girls, chosen by their respective high schools, attended the week-long camp. They were "outstanding Juniors" at school.

The girls lived a life of a politician. They made political posters, delivered speeches and campaigned for office. A governor and his cabinet were elected as was a judge of the Supreme Court. On the lower level the girls campaigned for and elected councilmen and county commissioners.

Two political parties were set up and the camp was divided into federalists and nationalists. They lived in designated "cities" named in part after their adult leaders.

Miss Elder first campaigned for councilman. She made her own posters, wrote her speeches and conducted a parade to win the election. She followed with a similar campaign for county commissioner and won handily. Her third attainment was her campaign for judge of the Supreme Court where the rivalry was more intense.

In her closing rally she delivered a speech she had written and wound up singing her own campaign song and accompanied herself on a guitar. She won the election 140 to 81.

The crowning and most surprising event was her election as the "outstanding citizen of Cormany City," her assigned city of residence in camp.

Miss Elder also sang second soprano in the chorus.

Miss Linda D. Sentz, also a Littlestown High School Junior, attended the camp. She was a teller of elections and served as cheer leader for the Federalist party.

Miss Margaret Mary Altoff, also of Littlestown, represented Delone Catholic High School. She was assistant editor of the camp publication, "Keystone Echo."

Just Folks
The weeds of folly rankly thrive,
The flowers of worth are slow to grow;
'Tis hard to keep the good alive
Against the bitter winds that blow,
The dreams of splendor soon are lost,
But common things outlive the frost.

Life is a garden asking care,
Its charms are difficult to win,
One may plant Juneteenth's roses there
But soon the weeds come breaking in.
Unless man keeps a watchful eye
The weeds will live; the roses die.

Not without labor good is won,
Nor without pain and sacrifice;
To weeds the finest soil will run,
For beauty man must pay the price.

No man his honor may neglect
And hope to win the world's respect.
Men do not idly drift to fame,
Good luck nor splendors can bestow;
Who would the joys of manhood claim
Will find that such a growth is slow.

Out of our lives no more we take
Than that we've sacrificed to make.

METS DROP GIANTS WHILE PHILLIES BOW

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The flame in Elroy Face's fork ball appears to be flickering. As a result, he's not putting out fires the way he once did.

Face, not long ago one of the top relief pitchers in the majors, was rocked again Monday night in Pittsburgh's 7-6 loss to the ninth-place Los Angeles Dodgers.

The 36-year-old Pirate right-hander entered the game in the seventh inning just after a four-run rally had tied the Dodgers 5-5. He retired the first batter, but before retiring the side, he walked three batters and gave up two singles, allowing the Dodgers to score two runs, which they needed for the victory.

For his brief appearance, Face suffered his third loss in five decisions and had his earned run average soar to 5.23 for 22 games.

Face's showing followed a painful pattern that has developed for the man who won 17 straight games in relief in 1959 and who has averaged 61 appearances a season for the past eight years.

He was called upon June 21 to keep the Pirates close in a game Chicago led 2-0. However, the Cubs lashed him for two runs and three hits in two-thirds of an inning.

GIANTS BOW TO METS
On June 12 he replaced starter Bob Veale in the sixth inning after the Cubs had scored two runs and had two more runners on base with two out. Face put another on before Joe Amalfitano belted a grand slam homer.

In other National League games Monday, New York edged San Francisco 4-3, Houston trounced Philadelphia 6-1, Milwaukee downed St. Louis, 7-4 and Cincinnati whipped Chicago 6-1.

Frank Howard drove in three runs for the Dodgers, including the winning one with his second sacrifice fly. He also homered. The Pirates, down 5-1, had rallied for a tie on two errors by third baseman Derrell Griffith, two wild pitches by Bob Miller, a walk and singles by Donn Clendenon, Bill Mazeroski, Bob Bailey and Manny Mota.

GONDER HOMER WINS
Jesse Gonder's two-run homer in the ninth off Bob Bolin lifted the Mets to their fifth victory in 10 games with the league-leading Giants. The blow followed a one-out walk to Larry Elliot. Jim Hart belted four hits, including a fourth-inning homer, for the Giants.

Bob Aspromonte's hitting and Bob Bruce's pitching led Houston over Philadelphia. Aspromonte climaxed a five-run first inning with his second grand slam homer of the season. Bruce allowed seven hits, two after the fourth inning, and didn't walk anyone in winning his eighth game against four defeats. He retired 16 consecutive batters at one stretch.

Ed Mathews walked in his first four appearances, then homered in the ninth inning tying the Cardinals 4-4. The Braves went on to score three more runs in the inning. Gene Oliver singled home Denis Menke with the deciding run. Mathews scored two earlier runs on singles by Lee Maye.

The Reds whipped the Cubs behind the hitting of Steve Boros and Leo Cardenas. Boros drove home two runs with a triple in the second inning while Cardenas doubled home three runs in the third. Dick Bertell homered off Jim O'Toole, who recorded his seventh triumph in 11 decisions.

Golfer, 12, Gets First Hole-in-One

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Two holes in one were scored Monday at Twin Hills Country Club here. The aces were the first for each of the golfers.

William Hoskinson got his on the 147-yard No. 11. Jay Buxton holed his tee shot on the 150-yard No. 4.

Buxton is 12 years old, Hoskinson is 84.

The youngster has been playing two years. Hoskinson took up the game 34 years ago when he was 50.

"This just proves that if you live long enough and keep trying, anything is possible," Hoskinson said.

U. S. MAY HAVE ITS STRONGEST TRACK SQUAD

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States has a strong track team, maybe its best ever, for the dual meet with Russia next month.

But, Coach Sam Bell quickly points out, that doesn't mean we're home safe. In fact, we could be in trouble.

"The Russian team is a strong one," warned the Oregon State coach who will guide the U.S. team in the meet with Russia's best at Los Angeles July 25-26.

RUSSIANS STRONG TOO
"It's possible our team is the strongest we have ever had and we won't do as well as other times in the past because the Russian team definitely is the strongest it has ever been," Bell said Monday.

The U.S. men have won all five previous meets with Russia. The U.S. team this year will be made up of the first two finishers in each event in last week's National AAU championships at New Brunswick, N.J.

And AAU Executive Director Col. Don Hull said some additional names may be added to the team after this weekend's Olympic trials at Randall's Island in New York.

"This is not going to be a friendly joust," Bell said of the Russian meet. "Both teams, both countries, will be going all out. There's a lot at stake."

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Matt Gayeski allowed only five scattered singles Monday night as he pitched the Springfield Giants to a 7-0 blanking of the Reading Red Sox and increased the Eastern League lead to 3½ games.

Charleston edged Elmira, 3-2, on Tom Kelly's disputed triple down the first base line in the 10th inning. Andy Etchebarren and John Hogg of the Pioneers were ejected from the game when they objected to the call, thinking the hit was foul.

The Indians' George Culver picked up the win, making him 8-4 on the season, while Hogg took the defeat. He's now 4-5.

At Williamsport, Bill Kirk pitched a neat seven-hitter and his teammates collected 14 hits as the York White roses knocked off the Mets, 8-3.

Tom Brown led the attack with two home runs, one in the second inning and the other in the fourth.

Ron Swoboda tagged a round-tripper for the Mets, but it wasn't enough as starting pitcher Ray Apple took the loss.

ORIOLES BEAT TWINS FOR 7TH STRAIGHT WIN

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Radatz a monster? Why that's silly. Any American League batter can tell you that thing Johnny Pesky keeps calling out of the Boston bullpen more like a machine.

Take Monday night for example. Radatz threw 32 pitches at Kansas City Athletics and 24 were strikes. It was his 40th appearance of the year and his 2-13 inning stint saved a 4-3 Red Sox victory.

The save, his third in two days, was the 13th of the season for the huge reliever whose 93 strikeouts give him second best total in the AL. Pesky's man in the bullpen sports a 1.62 earned run average and seems a shoo-in to snap Jim Konstanty's record of 74 appearances in one season.

ORIOLES WIN 7TH
Pesky has nothing but admiration for his stopper. "He's so important to us," the Red Sox manager says, "it's unbelievable."

Elsewhere in the AL Monday Baltimore stretched its winning streak to seven games with a 6-3 victory over Minnesota. Chicago topped Cleveland 5-1 in 10 innings and Washington defeated Detroit 5-3. New York and Los Angeles were not scheduled.

Radatz came on when the Athletics had reached Sox' starter Earl Wilson and reliever Arnold Earley for two runs in the seventh. He got pinch hitter Doc Edwards to fly out and then stifled the Athletics the rest of the way.

Boston shortstop Eddie Bressoud drove in two runs with a double and a triple and scored another after walking. The hits pulled Bressoud's average to .304 and ended a lengthy slump that had dropped him below .300 for the first time this season.

ROBERTS WINS
Robin Roberts survived two solo home runs by Tony Oliva and Harmon Killebrew's 28th circuit as the Orioles extended their league lead to 4½ games over the idle Yankees.

Norm Siebern hammered a two-run shot for the Orioles, who have won 10 of their last 11 games in their drive to the top.

Sam McDowell had the White Sox blanked for 8-2-3 innings but Mike Hersherberger's bases loaded single sent it into extra innings. Chicago then exploded for four runs in the 10th with run-scoring doubles by Tom McCraw and J. C. Martin the key blows.

OSTEEN WINS 6TH
Jim King clouted a two-run homer and Ed Brinkman delivered a long sacrifice fly to give Washington its victory. It ended a six-game losing streak for the Senators.

Claude Osteen, who won his sixth game, doubled in front of King's 12th homer in the fifth inning. Then Brinkman's sacrifice fly brought Don Lock home with the deciding run in an inning later. Lock had walked and moved up on Mike Brumley's double.

SPORT SHORTS
CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—The Citadel has hired Chalmers Port, one-time football and baseball player at the University of North Carolina, as head baseball and assistant football coach.

He takes over the post July 15, head football coach Eddie Teague announced Monday.

BOSTON (AP)—Kansas City slugger Jim Gentile is not expected to return to action until after the All-Star game, the club announced Monday night.

Gentile pulled a cartilage from a rib on his left side June 25 and was sent home for examination and treatment.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Redskins of the National Football League announced today the signing of two rookies, end Russ Brown of the University of Florida, and halfback Ozzie Clay of Iowa State University.

Of the 153 out on the course Monday, the cut-off sent only 57 to the tourney, which starts Thursday. The starting field is expected to reach about 200, however, as golfers on tour converge on Whitemarsh.

Among the other qualifiers Monday were Henry McQuiston, Bala Golf Club and John Schlee, of Miami, Fla., each with a 71. Henry Williams of Fleetwood made it with a 75.

Willie Kinnard, Saucon Valley, and Bob Kinnard, Locust Valley, both shot 74s.

NEW SUSQUEHATTA COACH
Samuel C. Gruber, a 1962 graduate of Elizabethtown College, was named head basketball coach at Susquehanna High School Monday night. He succeeds Joe Johnson, who resigned recently.

Gettysburg Little League

The Lions came up with three runs in the bottom of the fifth inning and went on to defeat the Moose 7-5 Monday evening.

Sam Waddell led off with a single, Dan O'Dell was hit by a pitched ball and Dave Dick drew a walk to load the sacks. John Saylor then batted a double off the right field fence driving in the first two runners and Curt Musselman followed with a single to right sending in Dick with the third tally.

The Moose rolled to a 5-1 lead with all their runs coming in the top of the third. Singles by Tom Ritter, Jim Lohuis and Tod Mull plus the help of three Lion miscues produced the scores.

The Lions' catcher, Sam Waddell, was the game's top hitter with a pair of safeties for three trips to the plate. Dave James went the distance on the hill to even his record at 2-2. He allowed five scattered hits, struck out 13 and walked but two. Carl Swinn tossed the six frames for the Moose and is charged with his first loss in three decisions. He allowed seven hits, fanned five and walked two.

The following schedule has been set up for the All-Star game: 6:20, batting practice for Team 1; 6:50, batting practice for Team 2; 7:30 to 7:45, fielding practice; 7:45, pregame ceremonies.

LOCAL YOUTHS DO WELL IN GOLF TOURNEY

Three of four Adams County young golfers walked off with top honors in the third annual Sears Junior Golf Tournament at Harrisburg's Colonial Country Club Monday.

Bob Britcher, number two man on Gettysburg High School's team this past spring, banged out a 79 over the long par 71 layout to win the second flight trophy in the senior division. Roy Fairman, another member of the Warriors' successful links team, was just nosed out of third place in the championship flight. He and Harrisburg's Jan Garrett finished in a tie for the third spot with 78's, but Garrett won out in the playoff.

Allen Wagner, McSherrystown, and Bob "Bo" Davies, Gettysburg, recorded first and second flight victories, respectively, in the junior division which consisted of nine holes. Wagner toured the nine holes in 40, one stroke better than Bill Jennings of Red Lion. Davies pounded out a 43 to win his flight without much opposition.

US AND USSR BOXERS MAY CLASH SOON

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations between American and Russian boxing authorities are in the weigh-in stage for what could develop into an unprecedented U.S.-Soviet encounter before the 1964 Olympic Games.

If the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union and the Soviet Boxing Federation can resolve several knotty problems, Russian and American boxers may answer the bell sometime in August or September—possibly at the New York World's Fair.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported Monday that the fight meeting had been set, though a date had not—an announcement branded "premature" by Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU.

Col. Hull acknowledged a Russian proposal for the exchange and said American champions would welcome the opportunity for a pre-Olympic test. He added, however, that obstacles to the meeting were legion, perhaps insurmountable.

One stumbling block, according to the Tass report, involved the Russians' preference for an August date while the AAU favored a September meeting.

Graduation For Dogs Thursday

Graduation exercises for approximately 14 dogs attending the dog obedience school conducted by Joan Goshorn will be held Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Gleason property, four miles south of here on Rt. 15.

Class members will wear graduation caps and will be presented diplomas. They will demonstrate what they have learned.

Another class will be started Thursday, July 23.

Oliver Bentley, a Bedlington terrier owned by Mrs. Jean Kirkpatrick, Hanover, won two points at Susquehanna and was first reserve at Del-Otse-Nange. Ba Ba, another Bedlington terrier owned by Mrs. Kirkpatrick, placed fourth at Susquehanna and first in reserve at Del-Otse-Nange.

Lee Oswald Diary Reveals Bitterness, Frustrations In Soviet; Suicide Try

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Lee Harvey Oswald wrote vividly in a diary of an attempt to commit suicide soon after reaching Russia in 1959, of his dissatisfaction with life with Russian girls until he met Marina, whom he later married, about his dissatisfaction with Russia and plans to return to the United States.

He told of these things in a diary reported in a copyright story written by Hugh Aynesworth in today's Dallas Morning News. A second portion of the diary will be published later.

Oswald labeled his writing, "Historic Diary," and kept it from Oct. 16, 1959, the day he entered Moscow, until March 27, 1962, a year and half after returning to the United States.

Oswald was charged with assassinating President John F. Kennedy in Dallas last Nov. 22. Two days after Kennedy died, Jack Ruby shot Oswald to death.

WANTED CITIZENSHIP

Oswald's train into Moscow was met by Intourist guide Rimma Sherikova. His words to her were, "I want to apply for Russian citizenship."

When Oswald visited a Soviet official about getting citizenship, Oswald told him the Soviet Union is "great." He said the official told him, "The U.S.S.R. is only great in literature."

Oswald heard nothing about extending his visa and, two hours before it was to expire, police telephoned and ordered him to start out of the country within two hours.

In a melodramatic fashion, Oswald wrote, "I am shocked! My dreams! I have $100 left. I have waited two years to be accepted. My fondest dreams are shattered because of a petty official."

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

He decided to commit suicide one hour before his visa expired Oct. 21, 1959. He wrote, "Soak wrist in cold water to numb pain. Then slash my left wrist. Then place into bathtub of hot water."

"I think, 'when Rimma comes at 8 to find me dead, it will be a great shock.'"

"Somewhere a violin plays, as I watch my life whirl away."

Rimma found Oswald unconscious by the bathtub, the floor and tub deeply stained with his blood. Doctors took five stitches in the wrist wound.

When he regained consciousness the next day, he realized he was in an insanity ward. "This realization disquiets me" he wrote. With Rimma's help, he was transferred to a regular ward.

IRKED BY DELAY

He described how he became discouraged at hearing nothing about his Russian citizenship papers. "I must have some sort of showdown," he wrote and went to the American Embassy and told an official, John A. McVickers, "I have come to dissolve my American citizenship."

Embassy officials tried to talk him out of it, he wrote, but he left elated, sure the Russians would now welcome him. "After this sign of faith in them."

One month after his arrival in Russia, an official notified him he could remain until they decided what to do about his case.

On Jan. 4, 1960, he was told he could have a residence document but not citizenship and was ordered 468 miles southwest of Moscow to Minsk to take a job in a factory. He said he got money from the Red Cross to pay his hotel bills and the train fare. (The Red Cross in Washington denied ever giving Oswald money.)

In Minsk, he met Rosa, "about 23, blonde, attractive, unmarried, excellent English. We attract each other at once."

He met the city mayor, "Comrade Shrapov, who welcomes me to Minsk, promises a rent-free apartment 'soon' and warns me about 'uncultured persons' who sometimes insult foreigners."

At the Minsk radio factory he was given a good job — very good by Russian standards — as a "checker" metal worker at 700 rubles a month.

ENJOYED BIG LIFE

He said he took Rosa to the theater, movie or opera almost daily. "I am living big and am very satisfied."

But on his 21st birthday, Oct. 18, 1960, he invited Rosa and a Jewish girl named Ella Germain and another man to his apartment for a party.

"Rosa and Ella are jealous of each other," he wrote. "It brings a warm feeling to me. Both are at my place for the first time."

In December of that year, he wrote that he was "having a light affair with Nell Korobka," a girl he met at the foreign language dormitory.

His mind was made up, however, for Ella on Jan. 1, 1961. "I think I'm in love with her. She has refused my more dishonorable advances. We drink and eat in the presence of her family in a very hospitable atmosphere."

PROPOSES TO ROSE

"Later I go home drunk and happy. Passing the river home I decide to propose to Ella."

He does, standing on a doorstep. "She hesitates, then refuses. My love is real but she has none for me."

"Her reason besides lack of love: I am an American and someday might be arrested simply because of that."

He quoted Ella as saying, "There is too much against you and you don't even know it."

Oswald told of gradually becoming disenchanted with the Soviet Union. A friend, Andrei Tovli, "says many things and relates many things I don't know about the U.S.S.R. I begin to feel uneasy inside."

REFUSED CITIZENSHIP

When the Russians called early in January 1961 to ask if he wants citizenship, he said no, just "extend my residential passport."

"I am starting to reconsider my desire about staying. The work is drab. The money I get has nowhere to be spent. No nightclubs or bowling alleys, no places of recreation except the trade union dances."

"I have had enough."

Feb. 1, 1961, he wrote the U.S. Embassy in Moscow, saying he wanted to return to the United States.

MET MARINA

A month later, he met a "girl with a French hairdo and red dress with white slippers. Her name is Marina. We like each other right away."

The diary got skimpy as Oswald courted Marina. "We are going steady and I decide I must have her. She puts me off, so on April 15, I propose. She accepts."

They marry and Marina's aunt gives a dinner reception for 20 friends and neighbors "who wish us happiness (in spite of my origin and accent)."

When he tells Marina of his desire to return to the United States in late June, "she encourages me to do what I wish to do."

EXIT VISAS APPROVED

With no word about a passport and visa by December, however, Marina wavers, "probably from the strain and her being pregnant. Still we quarrel and things are not so bright, especially with the approach of the hard Russian winter."

Their Christmas present was notification of approval of Marina's exit visa. Their baby girl was born in February and named June Lee, the middle name over Oswald's protests but according to Russian law which requires a child's middle name must be the same as her father's first.

The last diary entry was March 27, 1962, "I receive a letter from a Mr. Philles, an employer of my mother, pledging to support my wife in case of need." Soon after, the three Oswalds sailed for New York.

FEAR SHASTRI SUFFERED A MILD ATTACK

By CONRAD FINK
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Ailing Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri was reported in generally good condition today but more of his official schedule was canceled.

For the first time there was a public suggestion that the 59-year-old prime minister, who reportedly was stricken with a mild heart attack Friday night, should delegate some of his responsibilities.

The Times of India said no prime minister can afford to do without a full-time foreign minister, as Shastri does. The paper called for "a more liberal delegation of responsibility."

HAS THREE OFFICES

Shastri, like his predecessor, the late Prime Minister Nehru, retained the foreign minister's portfolio when he formed his government. He also serves as minister for atomic energy.

A government spokesman issued this statement on Shastri's condition: "The prime minister's temperature is near normal now. He slept well last night. His general condition is good and he is cheerful."

"In a couple of days the prime minister may be in a position to attend to the business of government," an authoritative source said. Sunday night, Shastri's son, Hari, said his father would need at least a month's rest, and there was speculation some of his aides would take the reins of government temporarily.

OFFICIAL REPORTS GIVEN

Shastri, 59, is officially reported as suffering from "overstrain and temperature," but authoritative informants said he suffered a mild heart attack Friday.

The diminutive prime minister almost died of a heart attack in 1949. The government's statement on his present condition did not allay fears that he was critically ill.

Shastri had been working up to 18 hours a day, attempting to give new impetus to solving the country's monumental problems.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are reaching the point where they will have to find some agreement among themselves—on a party platform—but until then they will continue rubbing sandpaper on the rough edges of government, an authoritative source said. Sunday night, Shastri's son, Hari, said his father would need at least a month's rest, and there was speculation some of his aides would take the reins of government temporarily.

OREGON VICTORY

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had campaigned hard in that unpredictable New England state. Then Rockefeller, by the polls, wasn't supposed to win in Oregon but he did.

While the polls said Rockefeller would win in California, it was Goldwater who won. When the Republican governors met in Cleveland in early June and some talked of stopping Goldwater, none stuck his neck out. Then Pennsylvania's William W. Scranton suddenly did. He announced he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination. He has been scotting around the country ever since, trying to make inroads on Goldwater but doesn't seem to have made any impressive ones yet.

LODGE RESIGNS

Then last week Lodge resigned as ambassador, announced his sole reason for doing so was to come home to their wounds.

Next week the 100-man resolutions committee meets in San Francisco to hold hearings on what form the platform should take when the Republican presidential convention opens there July 13.

It has been a confusing Republican year. Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam won the New Hampshire presidential primary although he was far off in Southeast Asia and said he was not a candidate.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had campaigned hard in that unpredictable New England state. Then Rockefeller, by the polls, wasn't supposed to win in Oregon but he did.

While the polls said Rockefeller would win in California, it was Goldwater who won. When the Republican governors met in Cleveland in early June and some talked of stopping Goldwater, none stuck his neck out. Then Pennsylvania's William W. Scranton suddenly did. He announced he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination. He has been scotting around the country ever since, trying to make inroads on Goldwater but doesn't seem to have made any impressive ones yet.

LODGE RESIGNS

Then last week Lodge resigned as ambassador, announced his sole reason for doing so was to come home to help Scranton stop Goldwater, and in the process got into a disagreement with other Republicans, including Scranton.

Lodge, who had been ambassador in Southeast Asia under the Democratic administrations of Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, said the war against communism there is on the right track and should not be a political issue this year.

But Goldwater, who has been criticizing the Democrats' Southeast Asian policy for months, said it most definitely is an issue. And Sunday so did Rep. William E. Miller, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

SCRANTON DISAGREES

Even Scranton disagreed with Lodge. He said "as far as I am concerned, it is an issue."

Where this is leading is hard to say.

Since Goldwater is a conservative and some of the other top Republican leaders are not — men like Scranton, Lodge, Rockefeller and Michigan's Gov. George Romney — they want a voice in the direction the party takes, even if the convention nominates Goldwater.

Lodge, Romney and Rockefeller are going to appear before the committee in San Francisco to say what they think the platform should contain. Goldwater has said he would like the platform to be merely a statement of principles rather than a list of specifics.

MAY COMPROMISE

But if he gets the nomination, and at this moment his chances look unexcelled, he will need broad Republican support, not only from party leaders who now disagree with him but from rank-and-file Republicans, too.

This may induce him to compromise on the platform's contents.

For example: while a majority of Republicans in both houses of Congress voted for the civil rights bill, Goldwater voted against it. This may help him with some Southern Democrats but it angered some Republicans.

If they insist on a strong civil rights plank in the platform, it is possible Goldwater won't make an issue of it. He can explain that while he voted against the bill he would, as a presidential duty, enforce it if elected.

The platform problem may produce the convention's greatest heat.

Search Continues For Third Escapee

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—Two of three men who escaped from Camden County jail were recaptured Sunday night, police reported, as the search for the third man continued in woods north of Paulsboro.

Recaptured were Charles W. Johnson, 42, of Spartansburg, S.C., and Albert MacNeill, 23, of Camden.

The third fugitive, Charles E. Martin, 23, of Fresno, Calif., was still at large.

MacNeill was recaptured while driving a truck along Route 130. He was taken to Gloucester County jail in Woodbury.

Johnson, police said, telephoned to his brother from a gas station that he wanted to surrender. He was picked up and taken to West Deptford Township jail.

Memorial Day officially began in 1868. It started after Gen. John A. Logan, commander of the Union veterans' Grand Army of the Republic, issued his famous Order No. 11.

Henry Piel was a chip off the old block.

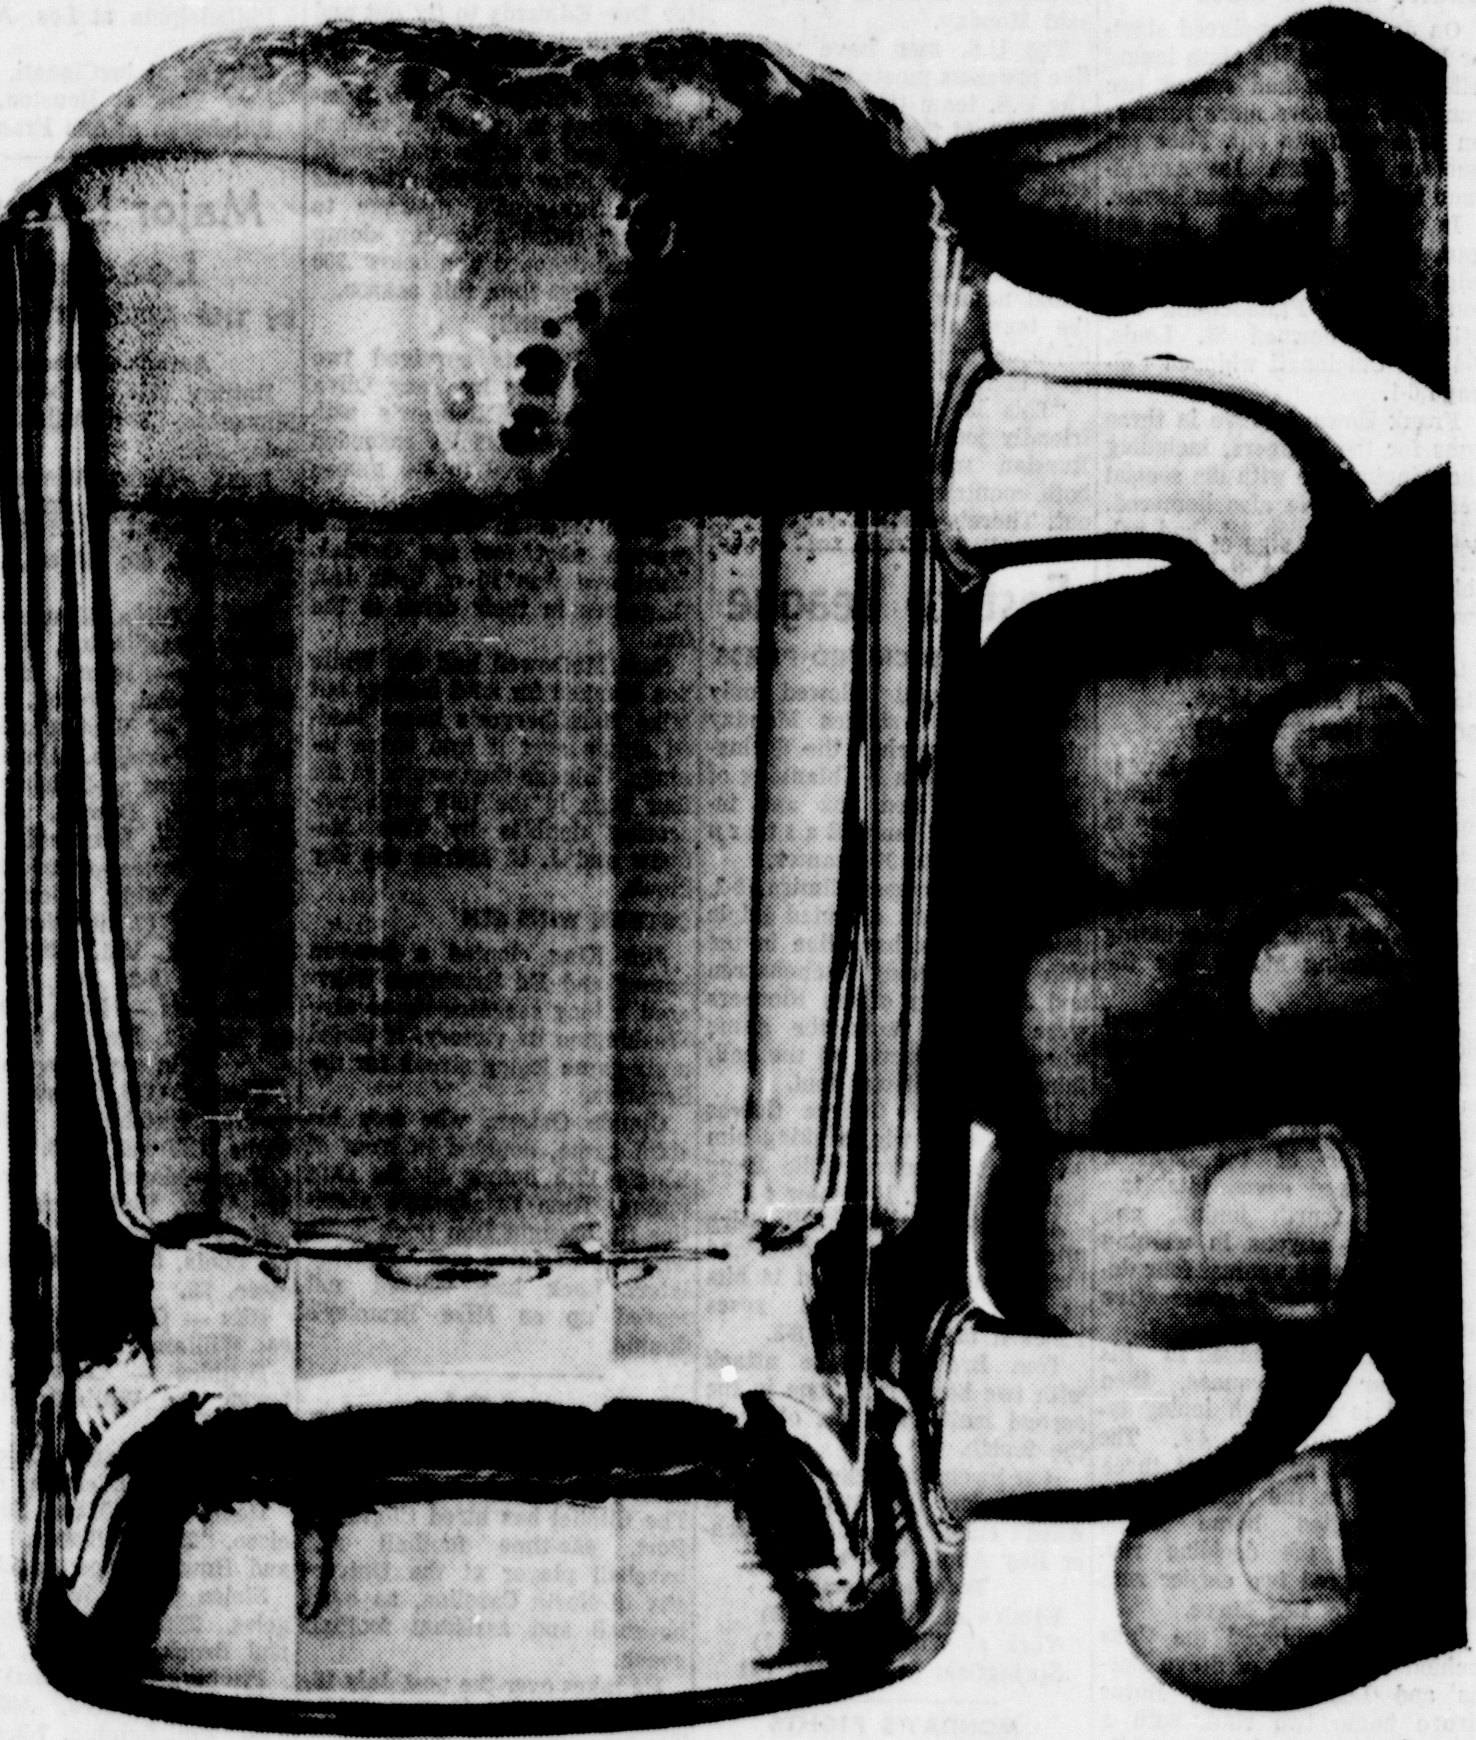

This is Henry Piel when he was around five years old. Of Michael's six sons, Henry was the one, since he was knee high, who would grow up to be Brewmaster.

• And he did. Henry was nineteen and a sophomore at college when his father asked him if he wanted to go to Weinstephan in Bavaria and learn all there was to know about making beer.

Henry jumped at the chance and spent three years at Weinstephan. From there he went on to study brewing at the world-famous yeast laboratories of Copenhagen.

• When he came back to Brooklyn, Michael marveled at how much his son had learned. It was a proud day, indeed, when Michael said, "Henry, you are Brewmaster."

This seal means a great beer every time.

For 80 years there have been no secrets in the Piel's brewing process. Just honest men making good beer the way they believe it ought to be made.

"You've got to watch each batch like a hawk," says Piel's Brewmaster. "Too soon, you get green beer. Too late, flat beer."

Piel's beer caught at its peak. That's what Piel's Peak Flavor Seal is all about.

Reports Red Forces Massing For Heavy Assault On Last Neutralist Post In Plains

By ANTOINE YARED
VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma says the Communists are preparing to attack his badly outnumbered neutralist army at its last stronghold in the strategic Plaine des Jarres area.

Souvanna said the Communists have 17 battalions—about 8,000 men—and heavy artillery massed for a five-pronged assault on Muong Soui, 110 miles north of Vientiane and just northwest of the plain. The neutralists have about 3,000 men at Muong Soui.

The Communist Pathet Lao and their North Vietnamese allies drove Gen. Kong Le's neutralist forces off the plain earlier this month, then halted their advance.

ATTEMPT TO HOLD
"We will try to resist," Souvanna told a news conference Sunday.

The loss of Muong Soui, on Highway 7, would give the Communists an important advantage for an assault on the royal Laotian capital of Luang Prabang and bring them closer to the administrative capital of Vientiane.

Souvanna showed newsmen aerial photographs taken by U.S. reconnaissance planes which he said showed movements of troops from North Vietnam to Pathet Lao positions. "Nobody can deny North Vietnam's interference," he said.

AIR FORCE STRIKES

Souvanna said the Laotian air force's T28 fighter-bombers—U.S.-supplied propeller planes—were continuing their strikes against the enemy but were hampered by bad weather. He said poor visibility also was preventing U.S. reconnaissance planes from flying as often as he wants.

The neutralist premier again called for a summit meeting of the leaders of the three factions in Laos. Prince Souphanouvong, his half-brother and the Pathet Lao leader, has called for such a conference on the Communist-held Plaine des Jarres.

But Souvanna said he would only consent to a meeting on the plain if the Communists withdraw from the positions they have taken from the neutralists since the Red drive began May 16.

Ancient Egyptians shaved their heads as a sign of mourning when a pet dog died.

RAGGED CHEER GIVEN RED BY NORWEGIANS

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev arrived Monday in Norway, a country solidly committed to the Atlantic alliance and more interested in topless swimsuits than in Soviet-Norwegian relations.

A ragged cheer went up from a crowd in front of the Oslo City Hall as Khrushchev, bareheaded and looking rested after his two-day sail from Sweden, stepped ashore.

Norwegian Premier Einar Gerhardsen, who says Khrushchev's five-day visit has absolutely no political significance, greeted the Soviet leader on the last leg of his Scandinavian tour.

"I am glad your visit finally has been arranged," Gerhardsen told Khrushchev. Earlier visits were called off because of hostile newspaper comment.

The Norwegian premier has described Khrushchev's trip as "nothing more than a good will visit to return the visit I made to the Soviet Union in 1955."

In his welcoming remarks the premier said Norway and the Soviet Union have a common border "which never has given occasion to strife."

"I am also glad about economic cooperation across the border, cooperation which I hope will help create good relationships between good neighbors," Gerhardsen added.

"As we came to Denmark and Sweden, we came to your country with an open heart," the Soviet premier said, rattling through a brief speech with an air of disinterest.

One elderly woman in the crowd shouted "murderer" until a policeman clamped a white-gloved hand over her mouth.

Khrushchev's talks with Gerhardsen Tuesday probably will deal with nothing more than the general state of world affairs and include a perhaps lengthy discussion on disarmament. Foreign Minister Halvard Lange has made it clear that Norway's security policy and relations within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization would not be a subject.

Passing Trucker Reported Fire Minutes Before Death

MARSHALLS CREEK, Pa. (AP) — State police say they have determined who reported the fire in a tractor-trailer which later exploded, killing six persons, injuring ten and causing extensive property damage over a half-mile area last Friday.

State police said Sunday that Joseph Horvath, one of those killed by the blast, telephoned the alarm minutes before the trailer, with a cargo of chemical explosives, blew up.

Horvath, 25, was a Scranton truck driver who happened to be passing by on Route 209 at the time of the mishap just before dawn.

The blast also killed three volunteer firemen who responded to the call and a spectator. Investigators are still trying to determine how the fire, believed to have been in the trailer's rear tires, began, and if the truck carried markings identifying its cargo.

IGNORANT OF CARGO

Ralph Miller, Marshalls Creek fire chief, said firemen who fought the blaze before the explosion "positively did not know what they were fighting." He referred to the cargo.

Richard McDonough, 40, assistant fire chief at Marshalls Creek, reportedly said he saw no markings on the trailer. McDonough was seriously injured in the blast.

The owners of the truck, American Cyanamid Co., and the truck driver, Albert Koda, 51, of Port Carbon, said the trailer was marked according to Interstate Commerce Commission regulations.

ICC investigators are trying to piece together enough of the trailer to determine it was marked.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the ICC says the agency will be asked today to open a public hearing into the explosion.

S. W. Doyle, acting director of the Philadelphia region of the ICC, indicated Saturday the ICC will also make a further probe into revising rules on handling of explosives and dangerous cargo in transportation.

Two other investigations were going on at the same time, in an effort to piece together the facts of the explosion, which caused an estimated $500,000 damage, flattened an elementary school and leveled a reptile farm, losing hundreds of dangerous snakes, in addition to the loss of life.

District Attorney James P. Marsh of Monroe County said his office is investigating because there are "lots and lots of loose ends." He did not elaborate.

The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission is also probing the explosion.

U.S. Rep. Fred B. Rooney, D-Pa., has urged a "full scale congressional investigation into laws governing the shipment of explosives on interstate highways."

The cabinet resigned and Moro was named caretaker premier last Friday after the Christian Democrats lost a parliamentary vote on its proposal to give additional aid for church schools. The leftists abstained on doctrinal grounds.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negro leaders got small encouragement when they asked the government to take "preventive" police action not only to protect civil rights but "the 985,000 Negro citizens" in Mississippi.

Swarms of volunteer civil rights workers are supposed to pour into Mississippi this summer. Three young men of the advance guard disappeared Sunday night and have not been seen since leaving a police station at Philadelphia, Miss.

Their burned automobile was found Tuesday. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy sent in FBI agents and Thursday President Johnson ordered 200 unarmed sailors, stationed in Mississippi, to join in the search for the missing trio.

3 MEN DISAPPEARED

But this action was taken after something had happened. The disappearance of the three men.

What Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, asked Kennedy to do was take "preventive" police action for Mississippi Negroes and civil rights workers before anything happened to them.

Kennedy said that even under the pending civil rights bill, not yet law, the Justice Department would have only "limited authority" to step into a racial crisis such as that in Mississippi.

QUESTION OF AUTHORITY

He said, "It won't give us authority because we have no national police force. Our authority is very, very limited." What he had in mind was the high constitutional wall separating federal power from the rights of the states.

Nothing in the Constitution authorizes the federal government to take such ahead-of-time action as Wilkins asked. But sometimes both the Constitution and federal power take on the appearance of stretchable rubber.

When there seemed a chance of race riots in Birmingham, Ala., in 1963, President John F. Kennedy sent 3,000 troops into Alabama's military bases, near but not in Birmingham. He did not have to use them. But did he have authority to?

QUITE A TASK

The Justice Department at the time said the President could have decided whether to use troops or not, if a riot started, under authority of a specific law—Article 10, Section 333 of the U.S. Code—which says:

"The president can use troops or 'any other means' to suppress domestic violence in a state if it 'hinders the execu-sons for Communist subversive activity in a crackdown at the Chinese-language Nanyang University, informed sources said today.

tion of the laws of that state and of the United States within the state, that any part of class of its people is deprived of a right, privilege, immunity or protection named in the Constitution and the constituted authorities of that state are unable, fail, or refuse to protect that right, privilege, or immunity, or to give that protection."

There's a lot of latitude there if the President felt he had to act. But in that case he would have been handling an immediate problem concentrated in Birmingham. For the government to protect several hundred civil rights workers, if they were scattered around Mississippi, would be quite a task.

EXPLAIN FBI USE

Yet, the government in some particular cases can act on the assumption that something happened. When a "Freedom Ride" bus was bombed in Alabama in 1961 it seemed like a local problem. But the FBI was sent in on the assumption there might have been a violation of federal law against transportation of bomb materials across state lines.

The Justice Department explained this week why the FBI was sent into Mississippi after the trio of civil rights workers, held 3½ hours by Philadelphia police, disappeared.

While no one could say for sure anything had happened to them, the Justice Department operated on the assumption it might have.

WILL ACT IN CRISIS

The department gave this explanation: "We wish to talk to the three men about the circumstances of their arrest. We also are investigating the possibility they are being held against their will by persons not law en-

GRAND TETON NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (AP) — A smiling tourist and his wife, traveling alone in a rented car, toured Wyoming's scenic peaks unnoted Sunday.

The man was Anatoly Dobrynin, Soviet ambassador to the United States.

After viewing an illuminated eruption of Old Faithful geyser at Yellowstone, Dobrynin and his wife drove on to Grand Teton. Several hours later they left quietly for Denver.

NEW YORK (AP) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville said Sunday night he believes the United States cannot "win that war" in South Viet Nam.

Speaking on the first interview program ever transmitted across the Atlantic by the U.S. satellite Telstar, Couve de Murville said the Viet Nam war is "political and psychological," with its real purpose to "win the people."

"You must take account that . . . it is not a military war," he said.

Forcement officers or are being deprived of their civil rights."

Federal intervention in a state is supposed to be permitted when some federal law or authority is violated or someone in government can argue it might be involved. This is pretty broad authority.

If a truly critical situation develops in Mississippi it won't be surprising if the federal government steps in with one excuse or another to save lives.

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Billie Sol Estes, onetime financial wizard whose farm empire's collapse created a national scandal, presided quietly at the opening of a new import-export business bearing his name.

Previously the shop was called the Rio Loan, a pawnshop operated by Paul Slone.

Paper bags covered the firm's sign. When they were removed Saturday, Rio Loan had another title added to it: Billie Sol Estes Import and Export.

TRAGEDY MARS SUNDAY OUTING

DUNCANNON, Pa. (AP) — A Sunday outing ended in tragedy Sunday when three children—a brother and sister and a cousin—drowned in Sherman's Creek about 2¼ miles west of this Perry County borough.

State police identified the dead as Donald F. Troutman, 6, and his sister, Barbara J. 8, of Progress, a suburb of Harrisburg, and Kathy Louise Troutman, 8, a cousin from Colonial Park, another Harrisburg suburb.

Trooper Maurice Lawlor said the youngsters were clinging to a row boat but let go to swim in deeper water. Fire rescue units recovered the bodies 20 minutes after the three went under. Attempts to revive them failed.

John F. Troutman, 7, of Harrisburg was in the boat, and his brother, George, 6, was on the shore. Help was summoned by their sister, Peggy, 11, who had just come to the creek to take a swim. Trooper Lawlor said he believed John, George and Peggy may have been cousins of the victims.

Donald and Barbara were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Troutman, and Kathy Louise was the daughter of Marine Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Richard L. Troutman. The families were spending Sunday in a cottage near the creek.

GARROWAY'S RECIPE FOR LIVING LIFE

EDITOR'S NOTE—Dave Garroway, whose life three years ago was shattered by a personal tragedy, stepped out of a successful television career for a period of re-evaluation. Now he is returning to broadcasting with a daily radio show on CBS' New York flagship station. Today, he writes as a guest for Cynthia Lowry, AP television-radio writer, who is on vacation.

By DAVE GARROWAY

Dear Cynthia,

Delighted to be a guest columnist. I have your note and it says the column should say what the last three years have meant to me—in 500 words and keep it bright.

A great girl singer we both know announced a while ago that she was planning to divorce her husband. One of her friends said, "After all, you've been married for 11 years now. Why, after 11 years, would you want to divorce him?" The girl singer said, "If you've got 11 years to listen, I'll tell you why."

I know how she feels, but I did learn one thing of great use to me—and maybe to your readers.

OPERATING INSTRUCTIONS

I used to say to myself, "Garroway, when you buy a new household appliance or a new tool, with it is a printed set of operating instructions. If you keep those instructions handy and observe them, you'll get the best service and it won't be laid up in the shop for repairs very often."

"I shall write down the operating rules that make me work best."

I spent a good many years collecting the instructions, finally narrowing them down to these few:

1. "He who ignores the lessons

Pope's Work Pace Causing Concern

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Aides of Pope Paul VI were reported concerned at his work pace and pressing him to rest. Vatican City would begin his summer vacation at Castel Gandolfo within a week.

The sources said the Pope's health is excellent but many at the Vatican feel he needs a rest.

Pope Paul marked the feast day of Saints Peter and Paul by celebrating Mass before 5,000 worshippers in St. Peter and then blessed 30,000 pilgrims outside. This is a major feast day of the Roman Catholic Church and a holiday in Italy.

NEW YORK (AP) — Opera

Star Jan Peerce is being treated at a hospital in New York City for a torn ligament in his left leg, but will be able to resume singing engagements in four weeks.

of history is condemned to relive it."

2. "This above all, to thine own self be true."

3. "First in the art of living is not to be delicate about money."

I'd better tell you that none of the above, I've found, is true or useful as a method by which I might safely predicate my action.

No. 1 is only true if the conditions under which the historical act occurred tend to be the same as those governing the act in which I am interested. Since it can't happen at the same time it follows that the result cannot be judged the same way.

2. I had forgotten the second part of this quote, I guess—and it follows thou canst not be false to any man." Well, that wasn't what I was interested in so much as getting over difficult problems by believing in myself.

No. 3 is probably the best of all but I just can't do it somehow. I know if I could be less delicate about money I'd have more and I've tried but I'd rather spend the money than go through the frustration of—oh, my cheeks are blushing, let's forget the whole thing about money. I don't want to talk about it, it's a very delicate subject.

TRY COURAGE

At the end of three years I've torn up the operating instructions, the checklist, and put the machine into gear. I'm running wide open down the right track and let me tell you it's a pretty good feeling. I now think you go out and get things and bring them home.

The fuel that I've found to run this machine was suggested to me very casually one day by a friend. "Dave," he said, "remember there is such a thing as courage."

I don't know why that sentence worked for me; it just might for you. Try a drop in your tank and see what happens and—courage!

Grass Stains Disappear With Prompt Treatment

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Adams County Extension
Home Economist

Prompt treatment and the right method make it easy to remove grass and foliage stains.

Remove any surface grass or foliage with a dull knife, then gear the stain removal method to the fabric. Always work from the wrong side of the fabric, forcing the stain out instead of imbedding it.

MRS. TUNISON

On washable fabrics, sponge the stain with cool water or soak in cool, clear water. If stain remains after sponging or soaking, work a synthetic detergent into it, then rinse. A concentrated liquid detergent is easy to work into and rinse out of the fabric. If the stain is stubborn and remains after the detergent treatment, bleach the last traces of it with hydrogen peroxide. Follow instructions on the bleach container. If rubbing alcohol does not affect the fabric or color, you may use it to remove a grass stain.

GRASS STAINS

Treat grass stains on non-washable fabrics the same as on washable fabrics. After the detergent treatment, sponge stained area with rubbing alcohol if it is safe for the fabric. To find out if the stain remover will not change the appearance of the fabric, test it first on a seam allowance hem, inside of a pocket, or tail of a blouse or shirt. Use one part of rubbing alcohol to two parts of water. If not removed promptly, grass stains on nonwashable fabrics may need the attention of a commercial drycleaner.

Directions for removing other common stains are given in Special Circular 61, "Spot and Stain Removal." You may get a copy of it upon request to the Agricultural Extension Office, 111 Baltimore St., Gettysburg, Pa.

REFRIGERATOR CARE

Baking soda and a corrugated cardboard carton can help to make cleaning the refrigerator an easier job. Baking soda removes odors and freshens the interior of the refrigerator. That carton protects frozen foods while you defrost and clean the refrigerator.

Cleaning is important whether your refrigerator is a self-defrosting one or the kind you must defrost. Once the frost is gone, the cleaning procedure is the same.

Use a solution of 2 tablespoons baking soda in 2 quarts of warm water to wash interior walls, racks, trays and compartments. A little dry baking soda sprinkled on stubborn spots will help clean them. For short-time storage, a covered cardboard carton protects better than any other type of container.

BUSIEST SERVANT

Since your refrigerator is probably your busiest household servant during the summer you'll need to defrost and clean it often. If you must defrost your refrigerator, do it when frost is about one-fourth inch thick. Take all foods out of the freezing compartment and pack into a cardboard box, then cover the box. Take out all removable parts of the refrigerator. If you wish, set pans of hot water in the freezing compartment to speed up defrosting.

While the frost is melting, wash and dry parts of the refrigerator and have them ready to return to position. After the frost melts, clean freezing compartment and rest of interior. Early marketings of this year's Pennsylvania lamb crop are now coming to area stores. This means it's a good time to use lamb often or get acquainted with it if it hasn't been on your shopping list.

Because of an increased interest in lamb production in Pennsylvania, the Department of Agriculture is coordinating a program to promote lamb for outdoor cookery this summer. You're likely to see special displays and cuts of lamb in stores during the weeks ahead, and you'll have a variety of cuts from which to choose.

Tender young meat with a fine delicate flavor makes lamb an excellent meat for either indoor or outdoor cooking. Consult your favorite cookbook for ways to prepare and serve lamb.

War Hero Retires At Hawaiian Post

HONOLULU (AP) — The only Medal of Honor winner serving with the military in Hawaii is retiring after a 20-year Army career.

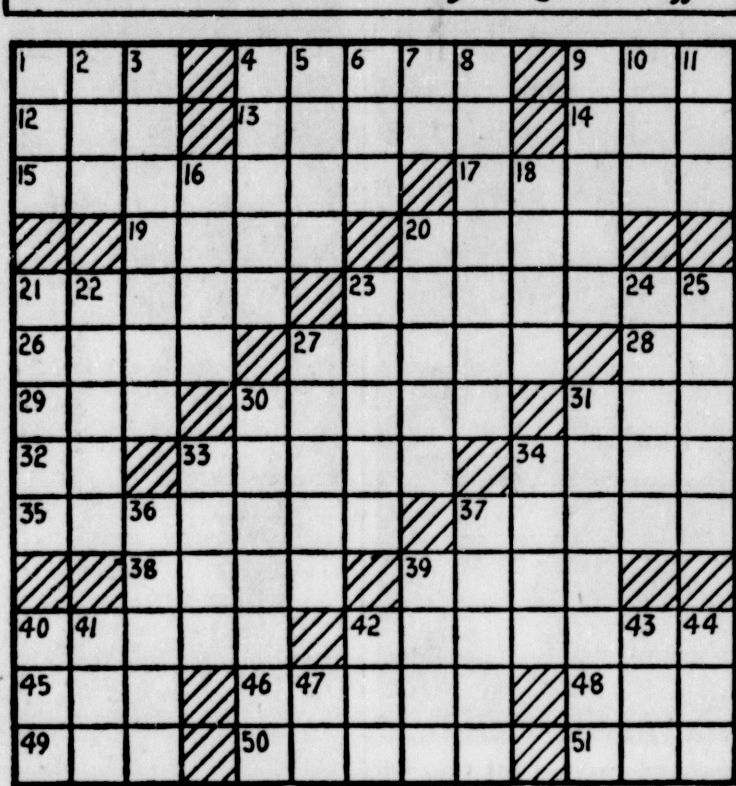

Master Sgt. William K. Ross, a native of Stearns, Ky., who also wears the French Croix de Guerre and four Purple Hearts, won the nation's highest military award in 1944.

He stayed alone in a foxhole in France for five hours of single-handed combat in which he killed or wounded 58 Germans so his wounded comrades could be evacuated.

Ross is now serving as a weapons platoon sergeant with the 25th Infantry Division at Schofield Barracks. He teaches young GIs methods of survival under fire.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — King Calder, 65, who played leading roles on Broadway, then moved into television where he spent many years portraying law officers, died Sunday of a coronary occlusion.

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (AP) — When a car plunged into a ditch, James Kenneth Whisenant, 16, of Barstow, Calif., was hurled through the windshield, and an inch and a half of his nose was severed.

When an ambulance brought him 100 miles here for surgery, doctors told the highway patrol: Find the nose.

Officers searched the scene 25 minutes, found the piece, put it in a container of ice and saline solution, and relays of patrol cars rushed it the 100 miles in 70 minutes.

Doctors sewed it back on later Sunday. They said there's a good chance it will heal.

ROSETO, Pa. (AP) — Peter Ronca, the blacksmith, has been getting a lot of mail in recent months from people such as Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa.; Gov. Scranton, former vice president Richard Nixon, and many more.

Ronca celebrated his 84th birthday Monday still an active blacksmith and toolmaker after 70 years of work at the trade.

He works some days up to 14 hours, likes to ride a bicycle just for fun, can still climb an occasional tree, or chop one down, as he did on his previous birthday.

ENVY OF YOUNGSTERS

His powerful old age is the envy of many a man years his junior and Ronca's fan mail an Associated Press article described him and his fellow-citizens of the small, but healthy town of Roseto, Pa.

For in Roseto, far from being unique, Ronca is closer to being typical. During the past two years, medical teams have examined the residents, mostly of Italian origin, to find out how they enjoy such good health for such long lives.

They found in Roseto, the death rate from heart disease was only about one-third of the national average rate. The town went seven years, from 1956 to 1963, without a single heart death.

Earlier, Scott met with Gov. George Romney of Michigan, to discuss the Republican presidential campaign platform, to be drawn up next week in San Francisco. Scott said he would have specific proposals but declined to say what they would be.

Scott said he did not ask Romney to support Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton for the Republican presidential nomination.

WILL PICKET PA. GOVERNOR

CHICAGO (AP)—Civil rights leaders from Chester, Pa., and Chicago have mapped plans to picket Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton during his visit here today.

Scranton is appearing before the Illinois delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Stanley Branche, chairman of the Chester Committee for Freedom Now, which staged a series of local school integration demonstrations earlier this year, took part Sunday night in a march and rally by a newly-activated Chicago civil rights group known as ACT.

At the U. S. Courthouse, winding up the demonstration Monday morning, Branche told demonstrators Scranton "is talking about (Arizona Sen. Barry) Goldwater's stand in Mississippi when he ought to be concerned with police brutality in his own state."

Branche's group has been urging a state investigation into what they term police brutality during demonstrations in Chester.

A favorite food of the Eskimos on Banks Island is TV dinners. The Canadian Arctic natives store the meals in a convenient deep freeze — a hole in the frozen ground.

I come home and eat and then come to work at my son's garage and blacksmith shop."

"I've always worked hard, maybe that's the secret," he says.

He even talks of giving up the quarries and starting his own blacksmith shop.

"I've got work 'til I die," he says.

YANKS SLASH SMOKING FAGS BY 16 BILLION

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans cut down on their smoking by about 16 billion cigarettes since a government report linked health hazards to smoking, the Agriculture Department reported today.

The cut-back was 6.5 per cent below the first six months of last year.

The department said more cigarettes are now being smoked in the United States than in the period just after the report was released last Jan. 11, but probably not as many as before the report.

Meanwhile, cigars, pipes and roll-your-own cigarettes are becoming more popular. Sales of regular and small cigars are up about 12 per cent.

2 PER CENT DROP

The department estimated cigarette consumption for the year ending June 30 at 507 billion—a drop of 2 per cent from the previous year.

"Data available thus far indicate that consumption dropped sharply following release of the (Jan. 11) report—probably 15 to 20 per cent. The severity of this decline has not persisted, but consumption has not recovered to the pre-report level. Whether or not cigarette use will resume the fairly strong upward trend that characterized the period 1955 through 1963 cannot be foreseen," the report said.

Production of smoking tobacco for pipes and roll-your-own cigarettes increased about one-sixth. Production of chewing tobacco increased slightly.

'Copter To Land On Runway Of Eggs

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Pilots hope to set a helicopter down at the Kern County Airport at noon today to crack a world record—and 47 eggs.

It will mark the end of a 101-hour endurance record for helicopters which a team of four pilots began Thursday.

Referees from the National Aeronautical Association taped 48 eggs to the skids of the machine to make sure it couldn't make an unauthorized landing.

One egg was broken when a pilot dropped it Sunday to celebrate passing of the old 72-hour endurance mark, set four years ago by Navy pilots.

BARDSTOWN, Ky. (AP)—Volunteer firemen didn't even get to hold their checks long enough to take them home this year.

At the annual banquet where checks for the year's work are passed out, the firemen were called to a blaze and the checks went to the wives.

IKE SAYS HE'S STILL NEUTRAL

WASHINGTON—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower preserved his own neutrality on the Republican Presidential race Saturday but quipped that his family seems to be "very badly divided" over the leading contenders.

Gen. Eisenhower made the comment after arriving by helicopter at the Pentagon for ceremonies unveiling a statue of Taras Shevchenko, Ukrainian poet-hero.

Gen. Eisenhower was wearing a blue tie with white elephants—symbol of the Republican party—and a gold-colored elephant tie clip.

"You can admire the tie if you like," he told a reporter waiting to ask some political questions.

Asked what he thought of his son, John, and his brother, Milton, coming out recently for Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in the GOP race, he replied: "Some in my family have endorsed one man and some another. The family seems to be very badly divided."

He apparently referred to the fact that another brother, Edgar, of Tacoma, Wash., is a supporter of Sen. Barry M. Goldwater.

Asked about his own views, the ex-President said only: "I haven't endorsed."

G. N. Redding Jr. Trains In Texas

Airman George N. Redding Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Redding Sr., of 340 S. Washington St., has completed the first phase of his Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Airman Redding has been selected for technical training as a supply specialist at an Air Training Command (ATC) school at Amarillo AFB, Tex. ## FIRE MARSHAL

Murren added, "We are welcome to go there again, but it would seem to me that we would 'reach more people if we could hold the program from year to year in various parts of the county." He asked fire companies which might like to have the annual county-wide fire prevention week program in their areas to notify him.

He reported that the County Fire Chiefs Association has again joined the County Firemen's Association to purchase fire prevention covers for school books for distribution in October.

SHOWS POLICE FILM

State Police Sgt. David K. James spoke on "Safety" and showed a film on state police work. Commenting on recent fires in explosive-laden trucks, he said that all such trucks must be carefully labeled with large signs according to both state and federal law.

Speaking of the danger of truck fires catching fire from friction, he suggested use of foam instead of water to put out fires in truck tires and suggested that "you use hooks and pull the tires off if you can, or at least as much of the tire as you can, to get it away from the truck before the fire spreads."

Harry Moul Jr., Abbottstown, reported on plans by his company for the annual convention of the Adams County Firemen's Association to be held at Abbottstown August 8. He said the Abbottstown firemen "plan a good program" and will bring out a mimeographed yearbook for distribution at the session.

NAMES AUDITORS

County Firemen's President Robert Heyser appointed Harry Becker, Cashtown; Rodney Weigle, Heidlersburg; and Earl Shradner, New Oxford, as members of the auditing committee.

He also reported that the Gettysburg Exchange Club has purchased a "Resuscitator" for practice in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and closed chest heart massage and said the equipment, now in the hands of the Gettysburg Firemen's Ambulance Corps, is available to any unit in the county.

Sterling Roth, Biglerville, reported a meeting of the county's ambulance corps will be held at East Berlin July 21. John Schwartz gave the welcome and Harry Moul made the response. The invocation was given by Associate Judge Clarence D. Deardorff, chaplain of the county association.

KEN BOYER IS OFF TO GREAT START AT 3RD

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Always a bridesmaid; never a bride. That's Ken Boyer of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Boyer has given the Cardinals nine years of consistent performance that have made him an outstanding third baseman in the National League.

But the big right-hander hitter has never had the sensational year that would take him out of the shadow of Stan Musial, or Hank Aaron, or Willie Mays. CAN'T BUNCH 'EM

He has never led the league in hitting, or runs batted in, or home runs. He has never been its most valuable player.

"I've always wanted to drive in 100 runs, hit 30 homers and bat 300 in one season," said Boyer, who is probably one of the best all-around third basemen St. Louis has ever had. "I've had them all in separate seasons, but never together."

Boyer hit 32 homers in 1960, he has hit more than 300 five times, and he has driven in 111 runs in a season. His steady play is shown in the last six years in which he has driven in more than 90 runs, hit more than 20 homers and hit more than 285 each season.

6 YEARS ON ALL-STARS

He has been named to the National League All-Star team for six straight years, including this season.

At the age of 33, Boyer is off to his greatest year in run production with a chance to step into the spotlight He leads the league in RBI with 54. Boyer has 12 homers and is hitting .297.

Boyer has averaged more than 150 games a year for the Cardinals, but "that 162-game schedule is rough." "When you work in an office," he said, "you get two days off a week. Think of how it is working seven days week after week. You can't rest physically or mentally."

"I can feel things I didn't feel two years ago. It's nothing serious, but I don't always have that 'zip' I had earlier."

SAYS DECISION IS THREAT TO STATE SYSTEM

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The U. S. Supreme Court decision on reapportionment is another example of encroachment on the principle of home rule, says State Sen. Stanley G. Stroup.

"This one man, one vote" ruling can only lead to further government centralization," the Bedford Republican said Monday.

Stroup delivered the keynote address at the opening of the three-day convention of the Pennsylvania Association of Boroughs.

He said the Supreme Court acted in the fashion of a "newly elected legislative body" in handing down the decision. He added that it upsets Pennsylvania's system of allocating representation in the House.

Under the state constitution each of the 67 counties is entitled to at least one seat in the House regardless of population. The Supreme Court held that every elective state official must represent a nearly equal number of persons, thus eliminating allocation of representation by geographical unit.

In another talk Dr. Maurice K. Goddard, state secretary of forests and waters, urged the 1,600 delegates to take advantage of the benefits of Project 70. Goddard said there is now $20 million in state funds available for the program, which provides local municipalities with up to 50 per cent of the cost of acquiring open land for recreation and park purposes.

But the television and radio people screamed to high heaven and so we had to wait until the scheduled hour. I told General Eisenhower I was sorry about the delay because of the close connection he had to make at Harrisburg. He said, "Don't worry, they'll wait for me."

SENATE BILL ON HOLDINGS IS UNCERTAIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise proposal to require public disclosure of the major outside financial interests of senators and Senate employees faced an uncertain future today.

The new rules would require the listing of outside financial interests but not their value nor the income gained from them. Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who has vigorously opposed measures of this type as making "Class B citizens" out of senators, said he saw no chance for its adoption before Congress adjourns.

RESERVES JUDGMENT

In a separate interview, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana reserved judgment on the proposed resolution, unveiled Monday by the Senate Rules Committee in a sequel to its Bobby Baker investigation.

A far more sweeping proposal, offered by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., was narrowly rejected on a voice vote. Clark said he would carry the fight to the Senate.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., the committee chairman, sponsored the compromise and introduced it in the Senate late Monday.

PROPOSED RULE

The new Senate rule proposed in the committee's resolution would require senators and officials and employees of the Senate who earn more than $10,000 a year to file a report on April 15 each year listing:

1. The name and business of any company, partnership or trust or other profit-making enterprise in which on the previous Jan. 1 they held specifically any pecuniary interest with a value equal to or in excess of one half of their senate pay.
2. The name of any such company in which they served on the previous Jan. 1 as an officer, director, partner or in any other executive, managerial, or advisory capacity.
3. The name and address of any professional firm in which they had a financial interest if it was engaged in practice before any federal agency.

SUBSTITUTE PROPOSAL

Clarks substitute proposal, in contrast, would require disclosure of every item of income in excess of $100 and of all assets, liabilities and capital gains in excess of $5,000. It also would apply to holdings of spouses, while Jordan's resolution would not.

Jordan's resolution also carries no enforcement machinery. Under Clark's proposal, the Rules Committee would be responsible for policing the disclosure rule and if it found any violations, it would recommend reprimand, censure, suspension or expulsion.

MORE ATOMIC DATA GOING TO NATO POWERS

By KARL R. BAUMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson notified Congress today that he has approved a new agreement to extend the types of atomic information the United States may give to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and its member nations.

The new agreement supersedes an earlier one, under which NATO and its members have been receiving some atomic information for the past several years.

In notifying Congress of the new agreement, Johnson said the expanded area of information is needed to make effective use of nuclear delivery systems being provided by this country under bilateral procedures and agreements that followed creation of NATO atomic stockpiles in 1957.

"LOGICAL STEP"

Also, Johnson said, the new agreement will permit NATO member countries to share in information that this country has been exchanging only with the NATO organization itself, under a 1955 agreement.

He said the new agreement "represents a logical and useful step in our continuing and varied efforts to ensure wider allied participation in NATO nuclear defenses."

Furthermore, Johnson said, "such wider participation is necessary on both military and political grounds. It is needed to enhance the effectiveness of NATO defenses. On political grounds, it is needed to reinforce NATO cohesion in meeting our allies' legitimate desire to make a constructive contribution to nuclear defense."

30 DAYS' NOTICE

Under the Atomic Energy Act the Joint House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee must have 30 days' notice before the agreement can go into effect.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, had recommended that the President approve the broadening agreement.

In a memorandum to Johnson, they stressed that the new agreement makes clear that there will be no transfer of atomic weapons or atomic weapons systems involving restricted data.

TWO INJURED IN SUNDAY CRASH

Two persons received minor injuries and three automobiles were damaged in a traffic mishap north of Hampton Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

Injured were Fred M. Ensor, 22, York Springs, operating an automobile north on the Hanover-Carlisle pike, and Macie I. Tuckett, Milwaukee, Wis., a passenger in a southbound car driven by Jean Barrick, 26, Milwaukee.

Taken to the Hanover Hospital in the New Oxford Fire Co. ambulance. Ensor was treated for lacerations of the left arm and contusions of the head and Miss Tuckett was treated for contusions of the right knee. Both were released after treatment.

State police of the Gettysburg substation reported that the Ensor auto crossed over the center of the roadway and sideswiped the Barrick car.

Ensor's vehicle then struck a parked car, owned by John S. Gordon, Hampton, facing north.

Damage was $500 to the Ensor vehicle, $1,500 to the Barrick auto and $200 to the Gordon car, according to investigators.
